THE BOILER EXPLOSION.

ADDITIONAL PARTICULARS OF THE DISASTER-BECOVERY OF THE REMAINS OF MORE OF THE

The search for the bodies of the missing persons who were in the building on Sansom atreet at the time of the recent explosion, is still being presecuted with all possible vigor. All day yesterday a large force of firemen and others were at work removing the rabbish, in the bope of finding the femains of those who are still missing their operations being eagerly watched by a large number of spectators. This morning a force of flity men were put at work apon the rains, and it is expected that they will be able during the course of the day to remove the entire mass of rubbish, and thus bring the bodies of all the unfortunate victims to light. On Sathrday the remains of the boy Frank Dubois were recovered, and yesterday afternoon they were buried from the residence of his mother, at No. 1425, Rye street, near Second and Reed streets, Young Dubois was much respected by all who knew him, and his widowed mother had no other reliance for support. About half-past 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the workmen also came upon the remains of William E. Hallowny and William Crump, whose name was erroneously given heretofore as Crouot. Both of these men were employed The search for the bodies of the missing per-in the turning department, and their remains when found were very close to each other, the legs of Mr. Crump, who was in a sitting position, being thrown over the prostrate form of Mr. Hailoway. The latter had covered his face with his hands, to protect it from injury. The bodies of both of them were found in the southeastern portion of the ruins, jammed in between the fly-wheel of the engine and the castern wall of the demolished building. They were badly crushed by the heavy iron work which had fallen upon them, but were only slightly damaged by the flames.

Fortions of several bodies were also found during yesterday. About 8 o'clock in the morning a part of a body, with the rightleg attached, was discovered. A roughly made truss was attached to the thigh, and a portion of the pantaloons still clung to the charred remains. In the pocket was found an iron fing, to which were attached a dead-latch, trunk and seek key. These remains are supposed to be fragments of the body of Mr. Alexander N. Closson, a portion of which were recovered on Friday last. About noon yesterday the workmen came upon a portion of a foot, encased in a low shoe, and several small bones, with fragments of crisp flesh adharing to them, all of which were found just south of the exploded boiler, where the fire raged the longest and flercest.

At twenty-five minutes to 12 o'clock this morning, the workmen discovered the remains of Mr. William Achuff. They were burned to a crisp, but were recognized by his father and two brothers, who were present, by the shape of his head and the color of his shirt, Mr. Achuff resided on Atmore street, above Thirteenth. He was only twenty-three years of age, and leaves a wife and one child.

scull were also found, as well as the trunk of a leg. They are supposed to be fragments of the remains of Mr. Alexander Closson, who was remains of Mr. Alexander Closson, who was probably the only person blown to pleces.

Thus far the remains of eighteen bodies have been recovered and recognized. Six others are known to be still missing. Two or three persons who were in the habit of frequenting the mill have not been seen since the disaster, and it is feared that they also perished. One of them was a boy, who was seen in the building a short time previous to the explosion. Fragments of several bodies, which are too much disfigured for recognition, have been taken from the ruins at different times, thus lessening the labor still before the workmen in the rubbish. Mr. Leonard, who was reported missing, is safe, and w s at the ruins this morning. morning.

Mr. Henry Wolfrom, whose remains are still missing, lived at Twenty-seventh and Samson streets, and leaves a wile and four children. While assisting in the work of removing the bodies a man by the name of Alexander Barnett, who resides at No. 21 North Seventh street, was seriously injured by coming in contact with a failing beam. He was injured in the breast and on the back of the neck, but is now doing very well, and will be out in a few In addition to the particulars given in THE EVENING TELEGRAPH on Saturday concerning the families of the victims, we have learned the James O'Donnell, whose remains have been recovered, was thirty-five years of age, and married. He resided at No. 405 Lombard street. Dietrich Endress, whose remains have been recovered, was thirty-eight years of age. He was unmarried, and resided in Mark's lane.

Measures for the relief of the sufferers are still being actively prosecuted, and it is to be hoped that a large amount will soon be realized, so that the families of the victims may be relieved that the families of the victims may be relieved of all present necessities. In furtherance of this object a joint meeting of the two German Cabi-net-makers' Relief Associations was held on Saturday, and $100 guaranteed to the family of each one of their members. A general subscrip-tion in aid of all the families was also inaugutions. The committee consists of the following:

—L. C. Graff, No. 2043 Market street; E. Harper
Jeffries, No. 33 North Water street; E. Harper

Cookman, Broad and Filbert streets.

Lest some unauthorized persons should endeavor to practise an old swindling game by soliciting aid in the name of these Societies, the subscription books have been stamped with the seals of the Associations, and also bear the signatures of their Presidents, Messrs. C. Greuser and Th. Wissman, and those of their Secretaries, Messrs. G. A. Klingelzoeffer and Louis Meltsch. A meeting will likewise be held this evening, at No. 1012 Sansom street, in aid of the same worthy object. We would also call the attention of our readers again to the benefit in ald of the families of the victims, which takes place at the Chesuut Street Theatre this evening. The largest house of the season should be place at the Chesnut Street Theatre this even-ing. The largest house of the season should be present, and those who are unable to gain ad-mittance should not turn away without con-tributing their portion by the purchase of tributing their portion by the purchase of tickets.

The boliers of the establishment, as already stated, were of the return flue pattern, and were manufactured by Messrs. Morgan & Orr about six years ago. They were 40 feet in length, and 40 inches in diameter, the bore of the crosspipe being 4½ inches; bore of safety valve, seat and neck. 2½ inches; bore of globe valve, 2½ inches. One of the boliers being sufficient to drive the engine, which was twenty-five horse power, non-condensing and direct-acting, they were used alternately, a month at a time. The safety valve was piaced upon a pipe which communicated with both boliers. Between this safety valve and each of the beliers there was a stop valve. The boliers are said to have been in good condition, with no liability to accident, under ordinary circumstances. But they were sadly defective because of the intervention of the stop-valve between the boliers and the safety valve. If the stop-valve happened to be closed, no steam could escape through the safety-valve. There was a still further defect, in the fact that the pipe leading to the steam-guage was attached to the communicating pipe outside of There was a still further defect, in the fact that the pipe leading to the steam-guage was attached to the communicating pipe outside of the stop-valve, instead of leading directly to the boller, so that the turning of the valve would render the guage entirely useless. The screw, turn-wheel, and brass pieces connected with the safety-valve attached to the exploded boller cannot be found. Should they be recovered, it can be discovered, from their condition, whether or not the stop-valve was turned at the time of the explosion. If this should prove to be the case, the cause of the disaster at the time of the explosion. It his should prove to be the case, the cause of the disaster would no longer be a mystery; as the increase in the fire by the addition of snavings, as described by the engineer in the statement first made public in The Evening Telegraph, must certainly have caused an accumulation of steem, which, finding no outlet by means of the belier. The Coroner's jury will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the machine-shop of Mr. William H. King, opposite the scene of the disaster, to inquire into this matter and all others connected with the melancholy affair.

At moon to-day the men at the Hospital were all doing well, with the exception of the engineer. Mr. Jenkins, who is still in a precarious condition, and not entirely out of danger.

THE "AMERICAN GUARDIAN" for June has been received, and a glance at its contents shows that it contains much matter which is of interest to all who are devoted to the cause of temperance. This journal is doing a good work in behalf of order and sebriety, and therefore deserves the encouragement of the public. The publication office is at No. 25 North sixth street.

WEST ARCH STREET PRESETTERIAN CHURCH West Arch Street Preserteman Church

A Touching Scene—At the church corner of Eighteenth and Arch streets, yesterday morning, the pastor, Rev. A. A. Willitts, D. D., conducted the solemn and impressive services usual on Communion seasons in the Presbyterian Church. The attendance was large, and the sermon from 1st Corinthians, 2d chapter, and 1-5 verses, one of peculiar carnestness and interest. The additions to the church were eighteen, one of the number on profession of faith. This one was a pretty-faced little girl, twelve years old, the daughter of a young man
now in Montana Territory, who recently wrote to the superintendent of the West Arch Street Sabbath School for a donation of books to ento the superintendent of the West Arch Street Sabbath School for a donation of books to en-able him to organize a Sabbath School in the Hocky Mountains. She appeared before the session of the Church on Saturday evening, we were informed, and passed an examination en-tirely satisfactory, giving unmistakable evi-dences of a change of heart and faith in a Sa-viour's love.

viour's love.

This incident at the commencement of Rev.

Dr. Willit's ministry in the West Arch. Street Presbyterian Church, is forcible, and illustrates that in weakness there is strength—in fidelity Christian love. After endeavoring to secure a paster for upwards of a year, the congregation finally obtained the acceptance of this distinguished clergyman. The first candidate for admission into the church is a little child—one of those whom Christ told His disciples to "suffer" to "come unto" him. In referring to the introduction of this child of tender years into the church the pastor beautifully alluded to the incident, and said he had no doubt that Jesus Christ, who first called the little ones unto Himself, would ratify the acceptance of this can

The Sabbath School, in response to the Montana call, has forwarded, since its recent reganization, a large library, together with Bibles, Testaments, and music books, besides refurnishing its own library with about five hundred new volumes. The books formerly contained in the library were donated to a Committee for presentation to some destitute school in this State.

A collection was taken up yesterday in the West Arch Street Church in behalf of the sufferers by the recent catastrophe in Sanson street, realizing $200.21. We trust the missionary work so admirably begun in this church will be

FAREWELL SERMON-The services in the FAREWELL SERMON—The services in the Church of the Nativity yesterday were of unusual interest, owing to the delivery of his fare well sermon by the Rector, the Rev. R. C. Mat lack, who has just been granted a six months leave of absence by his congregation, for a trip to Europe. This church has recently celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary, and from the sermon of the pastor delivered on that occasion, we learn many items of interest concerning its history. It was founded in 1842, and its first Rector was the Rev. John Gregg, He was followed successively by the Revs. William C. Cooley, N. Sayer Harris, F. S. Wiley, N. O. Preston, and the present incumbent, the Rev. R. C. Matlack, who has had charge of the church since 1859.

During its earlier years it was subject to many embarrassments, but has finally over-come them all, and is now one of the most flourishing and well-established churches in the city. During the past year it has paid off an indebtedness of long standing, so that it is now indebtedness of long standing, so that it is now free from all pecuniary embarrassments, while its contributions to benevolent objects have been on a scale of commendable liberality. Though located in a section of the city crowded with churches, some of whose pulpits have been filled with very able ministers, such as Drs. Adams, Kennard, McDowell, etc., it has maintained itselt as a growing church, has an admirable Sabbath school, a large and increasing communion list, and is thoroughly organized in every department. Much of this success is due to the feithfulness and zeal, combined with business tact and administrative ability, of its present worthy pastor. Worn down by excessive labors, his church and congregation, in a manner equally creditable to themselves and to him, have generously proffered him a six months' respite, and have supplied the pulpit months' respite, and have supplied the pulpit in his absence. Should the pastor return with restored health and vigor to resume his labors. we may safely predict a brilliant future for the Church of the Nativity.

After inspecting the rooms and everytoing appertaining to the school, they visited the Zane street grammar school, and subsequently the Hancock and Lincoln schools, each of which they thoroughly inspected, and obtained some valuable facts from the teachers in regard to the books studied, the effect of the system upon the scholars, their proficiency in the different branches, and other desirable information.

The Committee this afternoon will visit the Girard College and the Fairmount Water Works Girard College and the Fairmount Water Works previous to their return to the Continental Hotel, Their visit will extend to the middle of the week, as it is their intention to inspect all the objects of interest in our city.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN THE EIGHTH WARD .-An alarm of fire was sounded about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, which proved to be in a large stable on Vaughan street, between Walnut and Locust streets. The flames were first seen curling out of a window of the loft. Some time elapsed before the firemen arrived upon time elapsed before the firemen arrived upon the ground, during which the flery element had made great headway, completely enveloping the two stories of the stable. When the doors were opened, a huge sheet of flame—a flery sentinel—debarred any from entering to the rescue of the property within. STRONG DRINK ON SUNDAY .- Although all places where strong decoctions are dealt out were apparently closed to all sale and business were apparently closed to all sale and business yesterday, yet we witness but a small diminution in the usual number of drunken cases, as exhibited in to day's police report. It is possible that many rear doors afforded easy ingress and egress to the thirsty, who rejoiced the inner man by copious draughts of certain comminglings of cold beer and hot whisky. The following is an exhibit of the arrests for drunkenness throughout the twenty-four hours of Sunday:—

THE SEA-SIDE .- As stated in our Atlantic City letter, sublished on Saturday, the United States Hotel, at that favorite watering place, is soon to open for the season of 1867. We now is soon to open for the season of 1867. We now learn that the "opening day" has been fixed for June 26. The United States will continue, during the present season, under the mange-ment of Messrs, Brown & Woelpper, who have heretofore conducted it with great success, and with entire satisfaction to their thousands of patrons. The storm of yesterday having taken itself to other parts of the world, we may now anticipate a return of the warm weather, so that anticipate a return of the warm weather, so that by the 26th of the month the air and the water will be at the proper warmth for sea-side pleasures. Residents of the city can make arrangements for the summer by calling upon or addressing the proprietors of the United States, at No. 827 Richmond street, as well as at Atlantic City.

Violating the Sunday Anti-Liquor Law.—
The matter of testing the constitutionality of the law—which has enforced a new order of things upon the Sabbath—has become a mania with some of our saloon-keepers, who have only been cured of the same by a prompt application of arrests, fines, and bails. John McAvoy, who keeps a place on Orthodox street, in Manayunk, sold strong drink to a drunkard yesterday. He was arrested, and held in $500 bail by Alderman Holmes to answer at Court.
John Mulien, having committed the same act, by allowing the thirsty to pass the portals of his liquor establishment, on Richmond street, in the Eighteenth Ward, was held also in $500 bail by Alderman Senix.

Going Arroad.—This morning Mr. John F. VIOLATING THE SUNDAY ANTI-LIQUOR LAW.

Going Abroad .- This morning Mr. John F. Going Abroad.—This morning Mr. John F. Orne, of the well-known carpet firm of J. F. & E. B. Orne, No 204 Chesnut street, in company with Mr. Joseph T. Bailey, the jeweller, of No. 819 Chest at street, left this city for New York, whence they will sail, on Wednesday morning, on the steamer Scotla, for Europe. GRAND OPENING CONCERT TO-MORROW NIGHT, Grand Opening Concert To-Morrow Niget,

—The Horticultural Society, in throwing open their Hall to-morrow night for musical purposes, have provided a splendid programme, which will be found on another page. The entire Richings Opera Company, the Mannerchor Society, and the Germania Orchestra, are engaged, and will discourse most excellent music. The quintett, from Rigoletto, the finale to the Rose of Custile, and the Carnival at Rome, overture by Berlioz, should be attractions to fill this vast hall three times over, apart from the great interest attached to such an occasion.

ARRESTED ON SUSPICION OF BURGLARY .-Charles Barger and Albert Creager were arrested last night, the former at Girard avenue and Eleventh street, and the latter at Callowhill and Fifth streets, on a charge of burglary. It is alleged that they broke into the furniture store of Mr. John Hart, at No.959 Ridge avenue, and supported articles of which they store. and appropriated articles of which they stood greatly in need. They were held for a further hearing before Alderman Beitler at the Central Station this afternoon

HELD TO ANSWER .- Lewis Craft, who is the sole proprietor of a saloon at Twenty-third and Hare streets, and who, giving way to his irascible temper, struck a German named Heller on the head, till it assumed an unenviable aspect, was held in $1500 bail to answer by Alderman Fitch. It is said that Heller, of whom it was at one time supposed he would not survive the blow, agreed to compromise the matter for $10. Craft rejected this proposition with unfeigned contern t. contempt,

A LARGE HAUL OF THE WORTHLESS .- Yester day morning, before dawn of day, by the ener-getic movement of the Second District police, seventy vagrants were arrested and sent to prison. They will get good feeding at the prison, and well washed, and by noon to-morrow they will in a l probability be liberated. This seems to be reduced to a system. The police say that a House of Correction would be a blessing, for through it the community would soon be rid of these loafers. these loafers.

Laborary of a Ring.—Charles Battes, a young man, was taken in custody about 10 o'clock on Saturday night, for the larceny of a gold ring, valued at eight doliars, the property of Thomas Hettings. The ring was recovered at a pawnbroker's office, No. 326 N. Thirteenth street, where it had been exchanged for a small amount of money. Alderman wassey held Battes to answer in default of

A NATIONAL MEDICINE -One can hardly pick up a newspaper or turn a street corner nowadays that he does not find, staring him in the face, the announcement that Professor So and so has just discovered a medicine which is a panacea for all the ills that flesh is or may be heir to. These "wonderful" discoveries usually have an existence of a few months, then disappear from page notice. The reason of their sudden extinguishment is apparent. They were humbugs. At the outset all medicinal preparations have an equal chance for success, as all are equally unknown; but the chaff is soon winnowed from the grain by the practical test which an unprejudiced public applies to all things. There are but few preparations of medicine which have withstood the impartial udgment of the people for any length of time. One of the few which we have now in mind. and which has been a long time familiar to nearly every household in the land, is the celebrated Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Their almost universal sale and use, and their emphatic endorsement from all portions of the country, compel the admission that they must be a specific for the allments for which they are recommended. Letters before us attest their efficacy in diseases of the throat, bowels, and liver. In that truly terrible complaint, dyspepsia, they are regarded as a sure cure. In Pittsburg, where these Bitters are manufactured, their sale for home use is immense. This fact alone speaks volumes in their favor .-Extracts from the Muscatine Courier, Iowa, Febru-

WE ARE GLAD to notice the rapidly increasing prosperity of the Colton Dental Association. It is about a year and a half since Dr. Colton came to Philadelphia and established an office for extracting tecth without pain, with his new amounted and continuous oxide gas.

To day he has the names of five thousand six hundred and forty-six persons to whom he has administered the gas, and for whom he has extracted teeth in Philadelphia; and no one of all this vast number has found himself any the worse for inhaling it. The operator, Dr. Thomas, who has been with the Association more than a year, is acknowledged, by the best judges, to have no superior in the profession as an extractor, and many of the leading dentists of the city entrust all their patients who desire to take an anæsthetic, to his tender care.

PURIFY THE BLOOD .- It is an established fact that a very large class of disorders can only be cured by such remedies as will enter into the blood, and circulate with it through every portion of the body; for by this means only can the remedy be brought into immediate contact with the disease. To obtain this desirable end, no preparation has ever been so uniformly sucno preparation has ever been so uniformly successful as Dr. Jayne's Alterative. It is, besides, one of the most pleasant articles that can be taken into the stomach; operating as a tonic, it removes Dyspepsia and Nervous Affections, and imparts a glow of animation and health unequalled by anything in the whole Materia Medica. THE GETTYSBURG ASYLUM GIFT ENTERPRISE.—The following commendable arrangement has been made by the Board of Supervisors of the Gettysburg Asylum Enterprise. Mr. Samuel G. Diehl, Deputy Collector of the Second District, is to receive all moneys paid in for certificates, and in case the decision of the Supreme Court is against the corporation, every certificate holder will receive back his or her money. Mr. Diebl will deposit all the funds in the Pennsylvania Company for Insurance on Lives, and keep it there until the decision is announced or the first drawing actually takes place. This plan will insure against loss, under any dreum-stances, to purchasers of certificates.

The Trial of Surratt.

Mr. Carrington read the following affidavit in support of this motion:—

District of Columbia, county of Washington, to wit: Bo it remembered that on this 7th day of June, A. D., 1867, before the subscriber, Justice of the Peace in and for the county aforesaid, personally appeared samuel Douglass, who being first duly aworn, deposed and says, that in the months of January and Pebruary, A. D. 807, be was Register of Washington City, in the District aforesaid; that about the Isl day of February, in the said year, this official deptaited in the box required to be kept in the office of the Clerk of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia four hundred names, each name thing written on separate pieces of paper, and each paper being carefully relied up and tied as a part of the names from which furors were to be selected under the provisions of the act of Congress of June 1s., 1861: that at the same time the Clerk of the Levy Court deposited forty names, and the Clerk of Georgetown deposited the names in said jury box; that the names deposited the names in said jury box; that the names deposited by this affiant were selected by him partly from the poll-lists of Washington City, and partly from the poll-lists of Washington City, and partly from the names or citzens whom he thought well qualified to serve as jurymen; that the names so selected by this affiant, as Registrar, were not communicated by him to the Clerk of Georgetown or the Clerk of Georgetown, nor by the Clerk of the Levy Court; that the names having been deposited as aforesaid, the box was returned to the Clerk of the Supreme Court. District of Columbia, and by said Clerk sealed, as this affiant believes, in presence of the affiant; that the petit jurors for the March term of the Criminal Court 1857 were selected as drawn from the names deposited in said box, on the said first day of February, and were drawn by the clerk of Georgetown, as the defiant recollects and believes; that the names were deposited without the knowledge or consent of this affia same were deposited without the knowledge or consent of this affiant.

And further this affiant says that the paper or papers containing the names of those whose names were written on the said four hundred places of paper and deposited as aforesaid, he cannot now find, although he has made diligent mearch for the same.

SAMUEL E. DOUGLASS.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 7th day of June, Anno Domini 1867.

CHARLES WALTER, J. P. Mr. Carrrington then read the act of Jun 16, 1862, relative to the empanelling of jurors in the District of relative to the empanelling of jurors in the District of Columbia.

The law requires that the jurors shall be selected by by the Register of Washington, and the Clerks of Georgetown, and the Lovy Court, acting conjointly; that they shall, in the presence of all the said officers, be deposited in a box, and that the said box shall be scaled by the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Carrington argued that the affidavit of Mr. Douglas showed the names had not been regularly deposited, and contended that if the trial were proceeded with and the verdict rendered by a jury thus empannelled, the proceedings would be illegal.

Mr Carrington submitted four objections to proceeding to the law, as follows:—

First—That the jurors were not selected according to law.

Second-That the names were not drawn from the box according to naw.
Third-That the list was not preserved as it should.

Third—I hat the list was not preserved as it should have been; and Fourth. That the box was not sealed as required by act of Congress. Either of these objections, he argued, would prove fatal in the case of trial. In recard to the first proposition the law was plain that all three of the officers referred to, constituting a Board, must unite in placing the names in the box. They were constituted a Board for that purpose, and no officer could not do the work devolving upon all three of the officers.

Congress never intended that this duty should devolve upon any one of these officials. He then referred to the affidavit of Mr. Douglass as proof that the law had not been fully complied with. In conclusion Mr. Carrington stated that the motion thus submitted was not for delay. The prosecution was resdy and anxious to proceed with the trial of this case, and at no time have they been disposed to delay.

They are ready now, but the jury has not been drawn in accordance with the act of Congress, and there need be no delay in the matter, for by the fifth section of the act of Jone, 1862, the court could proceed at once te empannel snother jury. The court has plenary power to proceed in the matter, and the Marshai may be immediately ordered to summon talesmen.

FROM HARRISBURG TO-DAY.

Arrival of Pelegates to the State Con-vention-Judge Sharswood the Favo-rite, Etc.

SPECIAL DESPATCH TO THE EVENING TELEGRAPH. HARRISBURG, June 10.—Delegates to the State Democratic Convention fo the purpose of nominating a candidate for Chief Justice of the nominating a candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court are arriving slowly. The Convention meets to-morrow at 12 o'clock. The trains this afternoon and to-night will bring in an immense crowd, judging from the rooms engaged. It seems to be generally conceded that Judge Sharswood will be nominated, atthough Judge Ryan of Schuylkill, Hon. Cyrus L. Perahing of Cambria, and Judge Fisher of York, will receive handsome compilmentary votes.

Next to Judge Sharswood stands Judge Ryan. The full Schuylkill county delegation arrived here at noon, headed by Hon. William M. Randall. They are enthusiastic for Ryan. There dell. They are enthusiastic for Ryan. There will not probably be over two or three ballots. No one has yet been fixed upon as chairman of the Convention. The resolutions will be strong and conciliatory.

The Democrats boast that they will carry the State by over twenty thousand majority. Hon. A. J. Glossbrenner and Judge Black are here.

LEGAL INTELLIGENCE.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Judge Cadwalader.—The United States vs. Arthur Mullin and Bernard Mullin, In this case the defendants were charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States. It was alleged that they removed and secreted whisky under seizure, and then they removed it to other than a bonded waterouse. under seizure, and then they removed it to other than a bonded warehouse.

Alfred H. Young, a deputy collector, testified—That he seized the distillery at Ninth and Columbia avenue, and appointed William J. Furgeson as watchman.

William J.Furgeson testified that he was appointed watchman over these premises. He visited the place on the 14th of May; while there one of the defendants called him aside, while there one of the defendants called him aside, while the other removed and secreted several barrels of the seized liquor. On trial.

Charles W. Brooke for defendants. COURT OF COMMON PLEASE—Judge Brewster. The certiorari list No. 1 was under argument to-day. COURT OF QUARTER SE-SIONS—Judge Petros. A special panel of jurors were returned, to serve in the old court-room. The list was called, and there being no business ready, the Court adjourned until Monday next.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Ludiow.

An application was made for the admission to bail of Bornkeith, who was committed to auswer the charge of the murder of Lieutenant-Colonel Riddle.
Mr. Cuyler, for the Commonwealth, said that, so far as he had been able to judge, he did not think the case was one of a higher grade than murder in the second degree.

His Honor said that, upon what Mr. Cayler had said, he would look over the Coroner's notes, and if he concluded the case was lower than murder in the first degree, he would fix the amount of ball, and have it justified in open Court. The notes were sent have it justified in open Court. The notes were sent for and read.

The Judge then said that he was satisfied the defendant could not be convicted of murder in the first degree, but whether he was guilty of murder in the cond degree or manslaughter, or whether guilty at all, would be a question for the jury. Under these circumstances the defendant was entitled to ball. He would therefore be allowed to enter ball in the sum of $10,000.

William Mealey, a has John Kelley, was convicted of a charge of open lewdness. The prisoner is a full grown man, in appearance about twenty-eight years of. The testimony was positive, and proved that the prisoner had, by his indecent conduct, amoyed a the prisoner had, by his indecent conduct, amoyed a two months.

The Judge said be would make very short work of this case. There was no excuse for such conduct in a man of the prisoner's age, aged there was law enough in Pennsylvania to punish such low, mean crimest sentenced to pay a fine of $100 and to animprisonmen of one year in the County Prison.

I William Bradden was charged with the isrceny of twenty-hour chickens. On the 18th of December he was arrested, with the chickens in his possession. At the time the chickens were said to he the praperty of a Mr. Ofnes of Mansyunk. He then escaped from the police, and was rearrested only a few days ago. But there was no positive evidence at the ownership of the chickens, and hence the jury readered a werdict of not guity.

John Lewis was charged with the larceny of silver of the chickens, and hence the jary rendered a verdict of not guilty.

John Lewis was charged with the larceny of silver coins and other property, valued at $117, belonging to William Lancaster, and the larceny of $12 belonging to William Lancaster, and the larceny of $12 belonging to George Gaderon. The defendant was Steward of the English ship Cardiganshire. George Gaderon, the first mate of the ship, testified that he met the defendant on shore on the 27th of May, and became intoxicated with him.

A watchman on the whart testified that he saw the defendant put his hand into the mate's pocket and poll out a ro't of money. The mate and defendant were arrested that day for drunkenness, and the defendant paid the mate's fine.

William Lancaster, the captain of the ship, testified that about three weeks ago he missed a bigui-glass, some clothing, a new pair of boots, a number of English sovereigns, a French uspoleon, and other money. When he next saw these articles they were in defendant's chest. On trial

As Imposton.—Hency Converse, a young man, for severely guilling the good people in the neighborhood of Elizabeth street, and proving fully and undeniably that he was an impost of the first order, was taken in custody and held to answer by Alderman Holmes.
